

A. Du, ihr oder Sie? Which form of 'you' would you use in the following situations?

1. You ask your professor if they have time to meet. _____
2. You ask your best friend how she is. _____
3. You see three of your friends at the library. _____
4. You ask the sales clerk how much something costs. _____
5. You speak to your little sister. _____
6. Your dog and your cat want to go outside. _____
7. You ask a couple on the street for directions. _____
8. You ask a teenage stranger for directions. _____
9. You ask a 20-something stranger for directions. _____
10. You're talking to a policeman. _____
11. You're talking to two policeman. _____
12. The kids outside are too loud; you tell them to be quiet. _____
13. A drunk at a bar angrily calls you 'du!' _____

B. Sein. Fill in the sentences with the correct form of "sein".

- | | |
|-----------------------------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1. Wie alt _____ du? | 6. Ich _____ 21 Jahre alt. |
| 2. Sie (she) _____ sehr nett. | 7. Wo _____ Jens? |
| 3. Wir _____ Studenten. | 8. _____ Sie Herr Peters? |
| 4. Die Studenten (plural) _____ alt. | 9. Laura _____ Deutsche. |
| 5. Ihr _____ Amerikaner. | 10. Hans _____ sehr groß. |

C. Which SIE? Remember that "sie" can mean 'she' or 'they', and that the capitalized "Sie" means 'you, formal'. Sometimes you'll need to check the verb conjugation to determine who is being referenced. Are the following sentences talking about 'she', 'they' or 'you, formal'?

- | | |
|--------------------------|-------|
| 1. Sie ist nett. | _____ |
| 2. Wie heißen Sie? | _____ |
| 3. Sind sie Studenten? | _____ |
| 4. Ist sie hier? | _____ |
| 5. Sind sie hier? | _____ |
| 6. Sind Sie Professoren? | _____ |