Canvas Course Page:

Your daily homework worksheets, many handouts and documents, syllabus, calendar, links for further study, and many other helpful materials, as well as your course grades, are available at all times on Canvas, found at <https://miracosta.instructure.com>. Please check Canvas at least twice a week, and keep an eye on your email as well for important notices from your instructor!

Textbook Access:

You must purchase at least the 'Supersite Plus Access' to the Sag Mal textbook in order to complete the work assigned in this course. It is recommended to purchase the Online Access Card directly from the publisher at the VHL Store Online – the price is $169 there, valid for 36 months (3 years) which covers all three semesters of German courses, no further purchase needed. If you choose to purchase from another source or a used textbook, you must ensure that you receive the online access code, as the online ('VHL') exercises make up 10% of your course grade. The MiraCosta campus bookstore also sells the correct textbook access, but it costs more on campus. Buy the textbook access at the VHL Store Online!*

Course Description:

This course continues to develop German language acquisition through listening, speaking, reading, and writing. It reviews and expands upon the vocabulary and grammatical structures introduced in GRMN 101, and it develops the student's ability to engage in casual conversation, express opinions, and make suggestions in German. The course also provides for increased awareness of the German-speaking world's history, geography, and customs, including its socio-political practices and cultural artifacts. This course corresponds to the third year of high school German.

Course Content:

This course will cover the middle four chapters of the textbook (Kapitel 5, 6, 7, and 8).

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- 1) Engage in meaningful conversations about familiar contexts in the past tense, demonstrating command of second-semester vocabulary, structures and pronunciation in German.
- 2) Write cohesive, short, simple narratives in the past tense about familiar contexts, demonstrating command of second-semester vocabulary and structures in German.
- 3) Show comprehension of a simple reading selection about a common everyday cultural context.

Student Responsibilities:

This class requires an average of 8 hours studying and preparation per week outside of class, in addition to your time spent in class. This is an on-campus only class: you must be present in the classroom to learn, to participate, to interact with peers and complete group assignments. Consistent in-person attendance is required, and weekly participation is counted towards the overall grade. Even a single absence, in a language course that only meets twice a week, can drastically affect your progress in German. Languages cannot be "crammed" — they are a cumulative learning process, and it is best if you devote an hour or two every day to homework, computer activities, or simply reviewing prior material. If you have to miss a class, it is your responsibility to email your instructor for an update; contacting a classmate is a good idea as well. If you do encounter any difficulties, e-mail me immediately and keep me informed.

In general, you will be expected to complete homework for each class session, consisting of a worksheet and/or readings from the textbook, as well as keep up with the assigned work at the online VHL Supersite (the "workbook and lab manual" for this class). In class you will participate actively in class activities, presentations, discussions, readings, and group work. There will be four chapter tests (one at the end of each chapter), four writing assignments, a final exam, and one oral interview, in addition to regular homework and lab exercises.

Participation and Attendance:

Since this is an in-person course, attendance refers both to your physical presence in each class session, but also to participating in the activities and assignments throughout the semester. You must come to class and participate regularly! If you cannot attend due to unforeseen issues, notify your instructor immediately. If you are not present in class the first day, or if you miss more than three consecutive class meetings, your instructor has the right to drop you from the class for non-attendance. Attendance — meaning your presence in class, assignment submissions and overall activity — is tracked thoroughly, and both California State and MiraCosta College require that students who stop attending courses be dropped for non-participation. If you do not plan on staying in this course, it is your responsibility to drop the course from your schedule. Do not assume that the professor has dropped you: you are responsible for your participation and your schedule.

Class Participation Rubric:

9-10 points per week: Student is present and participating in class for both periods, and actively engaged in learning and communicating with peers. Student arrives on time and stays for the full class period each night, and devotes full attention to the class. Student interacts supportively with peers, plays an active role in class discussions, and participates enthusiastically in group work. Student speaks German whenever possible, avoiding English unless absolutely necessary.

7-8 points per week: Student is present and participating in class for most of the course periods, but leaves early, arrives late, or is distracted and uninvolved in class work. Student interacts with peers, but plays a more passive role in class discussions, or participates passively in group work. Student speaks German only sometimes in class.

5-6 points per week: Student is physically absent for part or all of a class period, but remains actively involved in class, and contacts the instructor when absent to remain up to date with course progress. Student is somewhat engaged in learning and communicating, but rarely interacts with peers, or plays a passive role in class discussions and group work. Student uses more English than German when speaking in class.

3-4 points per week: Student is physically absent from both class periods of the week, but remains in contact with the instructor and attempts to make up work and stay current in class learning. Student is not engaged in learning in class, but attempts to learn outside of class.

0-2 points per week: Student is physically absent from both class periods of the week and does not contact the instructor. Student is not engaged in learning and does not communicate with peers.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism:

Be aware of the college's policy on the need for academic honesty in all your work. Any form of dishonesty (cheating, plagiarism, etc.) in an assignment is grounds for a zero on the assignment. Extreme cases may be forwarded to the administration for remediation as stipulated by the college's policy on Student Conduct. Excessive absences, disruptive behavior or deliberate falsification are bases for dismissal from class for two class periods at the discretion of the instructor. Please familiarize yourself with your rights and your responsibilities under the Academic Dishonesty Policies outlined in the MiraCosta College Catalog.

In addition to the policies above, the following guidelines also apply to this course:

- Students may not use automated translators to write compositions or complete assignments.
- Students may not ask friends, relatives or native speakers to complete any of the assigned work.
- Students may not recycle their own or other people's work.
- Students must explicitly cite any material that has been taken from the Internet or other sources.

Using online translation packages (e.g. Google Translate, Bing Translate, Siri) is not permitted.

Using an online dictionary (which provides you with a choice of words for any one word in English) is perfectly fine and recommended. Unlike dictionaries, however, translation programs provide a full translation (often of an entire sentence or paragraph), rather than allowing you to come up with your own structures, tenses, grammar, etc. Translation programs almost always produce inaccurate, incorrect translations, and are considered a violation of academic honesty – they are not your own work and are grounds for lowered grades or zeros on assignments!

Expectations of Student Conduct and Etiquette:

This class abides by the Standards of Student Conduct Policy (p. 400) and the Academic Integrity Policy (p. 386) stated in the MiraCosta College Catalog 2019-20. Courteous and civil conduct is expected of all participants. Free expression is encouraged, but inappropriate language and insults are unacceptable. There should be no talking while someone else has the floor, whether it be your fellow students or your instructor. Please be respectful of everyone in the class. Turn off or silence your cell phones during class. If there is a special need for you to be on call, please set your device to vibrate and step outside if needed. Although you may use electronic devices (laptops, cell phones) during class for note-taking, group work, activities and study directly relevant to the class, you may not distract others or browse unrelated content during class. In addition, the use of cameras in any form (video capture, streaming, or Skype) is not allowed in this course due to student and faculty privacy guidelines.

Evaluation and Grading:

In-Class Participation	10%
Online VHL Supersite Exercises	10%
Homework Worksheets	10%
Writing Projects	15%
Chapter Tests	30%
Oral Exam	5%
Final Exam	20%

Grading Scale:

Unless otherwise indicated, all assignments will be graded on standard percentages:

A	90.0–100%
B	80.0–89.5%
C	70.0–79.5%
D	60.0–69.5%
F	59.5% or less
Pass	70% or more

If modifications or curves are necessary for particular assignments, you will be told in advance in class.

Types of Assignments:

In-Class Participation (10%): Your classroom participation is graded weekly, and includes effort, interaction in German with your classmates and instructor, involvement in class activities, conduct and behavior, and preparedness. Naturally, if you are not present in class, your participation grade for that week will be drastically reduced. There are no "excused" absences, so try to attend every class if possible!

Any absence will lower your participation grade for the week. Please be responsible and arrive on time for class, and do not leave early. If you must miss a class, email your instructor to verify what was covered and what you missed. Should excessive absence (more than 4 missed classes for the semester) become an issue, it may cause you to be dropped from the class.

The instructor reserves the right to drop the student from the course if:

- Student is not physically present on the first day of class ('no-show' drop).
- Student is not physically present on three consecutive class days or more.
- Student misses more than two major assignments (tests or writing projects).
- Accumulated absences equal 15% or more of the class hours scheduled for the semester; that is, if absences add up to more than 4 missed class meetings.

VHL Supersite Exercises (10%): You must have access to the online Vista Higher Learning Supersite that accompanies our textbook; you can purchase either the full textbook package that comes with the access code, or purchase a limited access from the publisher online. There will be online workbook/lab exercises assigned each class, which will give you the necessary practice of vocabulary and grammatical structures along with essential evaluation of your reading and listening skills. It is your responsibility to keep up with the assignments. Although VHL exercises are assigned daily, you have until the end of the semester to complete them: you must complete all assigned chapter activities at VHL by the end of the semester to receive credit. Please make sure to purchase the access to the textbook from the VHL Online store, which is much cheaper than the on-campus bookstore!

Homework (10%): Homework will be assigned nearly every class session, and will usually be worksheets to be printed online from Canvas, occasional textbook reading, or other activities which you must complete at home. Homework must be complete and turned in at the beginning of the next class to receive full credit. Generally speaking, homework turned in one class day late will receive half-credit, but anything later than one class day will not be accepted at all, unless otherwise discussed. Please contact me if you have any issues with computer access, as there will be many homework assignments given through the class Canvas system. I will try to limit the amount of pages you will need to print, but there will be a fair amount.

Writing Assignments (15%): You will write a short composition for each chapter topic (four total). The compositions are to be typed on a separate sheet of paper and double-spaced, being mindful of spelling, punctuation and Umlaute. Specific guidelines will be provided by the instructor along with deadlines in your class schedule. The compositions are meant to help you to synthesize the vocabulary and grammar structures that you have learned in the chapter and to practice personal communication in the target language.

Chapter Tests (30%): there will be four chapter tests (Kapitel 5,6,7,8) as the semester progresses. Each chapter test will include listening, reading, vocabulary, grammar, writing and some culture. You will be notified well in advance of these tests (generally, unless there is a drastic problem, there will not be any "pop" quizzes), and given adequate preparation in order to succeed.

Oral Exam (5%): Toward the end of the semester, you will have one oral interview in which you will demonstrate your speaking skills. Details will be discussed in class.

Final Exam (20%): Our course has its final exam on Thursday, December 12 at 6:00 pm. Note that this is not our normal class time, but 30 minutes earlier. Details and substantial preparation and review will be provided in class.

Please note: if you plan to be absent on a test day, you MUST contact me in advance to make alternate arrangements: missing a test without notification may result in a grade of 0. Should any emergencies arise, please contact me promptly by email or phone!

Classmates:

Use this space to collect information from classmates. Study groups and collaboration with classmates is a proven and effective way to learn. Further, if for any reason you have to miss a class, it is your responsibility to find out what you missed. Emailing your instructor is recommended, but you may also wish to get hints and touch base with your classmates!

Private study groups – members of the class who arrange to meet outside of class to review and practice German – are extremely helpful! I strongly encourage you to find a few study friends and work together if you can arrange meetings outside of class!
